Does your bath space truly reflect your reputation and desires?

The place that is often made the marker of one's reputation is the bath space. Being one of the most unique and used places, it has transcended from a mere functional space to an area that is symbolic of the aesthetic beauty of the entire house. With this transformation in role, came a heavy responsibility upon the owners to modify this primal space in the best ways possible. Yet, while going ahead with this renovation process, one of the most common and persistent problem that we, as a consumer, face is the unavailability of the quality products from reputed brands. As a result, we settle in for compromises, with an eternal dream of owning our dream bath space someday, that is never realized.

Compromised quality products equals to catastrophe

A bath space designed with compromised fittings and materials is not just an eye sore but emits a negative vibe that is anything but relaxing and sometimes harms health in the long run. To add on to this, inferior products make cleaning and maintenance a high end issue.

Imagine this; your aim is to design a color coordinated master bath space. Now, the three most essential elements in a luxury bath space are: the shower, the basin and the bath tub. You will definitely want products from the same brand and the same collection. With this desire in heart you embark on a hectic hunt for the right products. The end result, despite of a tedious search your bath space now has a tub that is hardly a compliment to the washbasin's texture or color. Thus, the entire environment looks like a disharmonious patch of essential elements. We can all relate to this saddening situation.

Charting the source of the problem

Now the question that intrigues is the reason behind this unavailability of superior quality products. The cause for this is that the Indian market suffers from a drastic lack of connoisseurs who can provide all the essential materials required to build a perfect bath space from world class brands and under one roof. Call this the boon or bane of globalization that has exposed consumers to the existence of high end designer products. Where the world is witnessing a revolution in the bath space with designers designing products that offer a sensuous interplay between man, space and water, settling down for the compromised is a huge throw back.

Is there a way out from the predicament?

YES. Every problem is bound to come with a silver lining. The need calls for the existence of a place that would provide these iconic products from the world class brands all under one roof. One unique Studio that has upheld this accomplishment of civilization in a charming and an unconventional manner is AAREN Intpro Gallery Bangalore, India. This is the place that has become the sole destination of the ones searching for the most exclusive ways to decorate their home and bath space.

Before divulging into further details, two questions need to be addressed: how far can we go with customizations? To what extent can water appeal to emotions?

The answer is “endless”. Humans have crafted products that are designed to meet every need and desires of the soul. These spectacular products from the most reputed brands are bound to give a stunning transformation to the entire bath space.

Take a look at the following products from exemplary brands that shall let you experience water in its most original form!

Bath tub- Even though the buzz word for tubs is passé, and the accepted notion being that the ‘smart’ generation not having enough time to enjoy a long soak, yet nothing excels the visual appeal and the magnum's aura of a beautiful bath tub. Apart from looks, the tubs too have kept up with the technological progress. The new generation ones offer the best from of two worlds- technology and aesthetic.

To make your bath space luxurious you need products that justify the concept of luxury. Functionality and utilization are the first thoughts that cross our mind while designing the bath space and installing a spectacular bathtub is just the perfect way to do so. Sumptuous free standing bath tubs are the latest development in the bath space arena and these are challenging traditional shapes and design in the most daring manner. The new age tubs are elegant, functional and have a strong stage presence.

When it comes to quality, nothing surpasses the spectacular handmade bathtubs made in Italy. High ends tubs such as these are designed from highest quality materials such as Crystalplant and Carrara marble or sometimes with precious metals like gold and silver.

If you are a lover of limited edition and prefer the rarest of the rare products, then there is the VASCABARCA/BARCAVASC bath tub from the world famous brand Antoniolupi. Carved from a single block of stone grey, the bath tub is molded to give it the shape of a hull. Only 10 pieces are available worldwide and each retains the sign of its celebrated designer.

Or if you are a nature lover and long to import the essence of wood in your home interiors then settle in for the stunning wooden bath tubs.

Products from high end designer brands such as Globo, Falper, Antoniolupi, Devon & Devon, Mildue, Palvis Design etc. are crafted for excellence and extravagance.

Showers- The eternal conflict between showers and bath tubs is here to stay. Needless to say, it is better to have both as they come with their own specific comforts. When it comes selecting the right showers, opting for the multi-functional ones always pays off. Apart from color, style and design, the new age showers come with features that encapsulate both the body and soul.

Gone are the days wherein the functionality of showers were limited to just providing the right amount hot and cold of water. The new age shower columns and shower heads comes infused with technology that in some cases can induce chromotherapy. For example, the Aquabeat range from IB Rubinetterie comes with a double waterfall feature or a full body rain shower. All these functions can be controlled by a waterproof remote controller. Apart from stunning features and exciting conceptual designs, the shower columns from this brand are a definite cynosure of attention wherever installed. With a combination of over 60,000 color options along with all in one body jets and thermostatic valves, these showers, constructed from the best Italian steel, are the embodiment of luxury and functionality.

The bathing experience is bound to transcend from the ordinary to an experience that appeals to the higher senses with these marvelous showers specially from world famous brands such as Fima, IB Rubinetterie etc..

Wash basins- A wash basin full of charm and sophistication instantly uplifts the entire ambience of the bath space. They probably have the greatest potential to make a bathroom look glamorous and sophisticated. Now if your mind pops up images of intricately designed wall mounted basins then broaden up your vision. The world has produced archetypical wash basins that implements a transposition function within the domestic space. Be it the free standings, under mounts, wall mount encased or top mounts, each of the wash basins is a palpable realization of technology infused with aesthetic beauty. The surprise does not end here. The new age basins have elevated into something known as the “hidden sinks”. To put it simply, these are sinks that are completely encased inside the wall. With a completely smooth surface that is visible on the outside but conceals a complex mechanism inside, these basins make water flow from invisible sources as if importing the beauty of a waterfall right inside your bath space, exclusively for you!

There is more to tantalize the senses. Inspired from the nature, designers planned to give the known basin such a shape that would expose every curl of the natural flow of water. Thus was born a range of sinks that looks like a sphere or a ball from outside in which water has breached in a deep basin to stop after showing off its flamboyance.

When it comes to the wall mounts, there is a plethora of mesmerizing designs that are a perfect balance between function and design. Each piece comprises of a sensuous design perfect to be placed in the most advanced and luxurious bath spaces. Hence, if you are the one who is comfortable with tradition, these wall mounted basins are surely the perfect choice.

Above looks, style and design comes the question of quality. These wash basins are realized from the latest material and processing technology. Rare marbles, expensive metals and Crystal plant are some of the materials used for carving these wonderful pieces of artifacts. World class artisans and the best raw materials, sometimes wood, infuse their energy into creating each item that makes them an instant classic.

Iconic brands such as Globo, Falper, Antoniolupi, Devon & Devon, Mildue, Valdama, Palvis Design etc. retains a spectacular range of wash basins.

WCs and Bidets- Having a top end WC and bidet are not only a sign of luxury but they are the ultimate bathroom upgrade. Though bidets are a relatively new concept, the world is waking up to its benefits of offering a healthy life style.

For a well-coordinated bath space the texture and hue of the WC and the bidet must be harmoniously reflected and synchronized with the other elements. Major problem arises when products from local brands does not facilitate this.

The architects of renowned brands have worked for years to inculcate style and designs in these two essential elements and clearly the latest products have a refined aesthetic sense. Versatile and manifold, these luxury products are designed for the contemporary life. State of the art features like heated seats, multiple settings for water and auto open and close are some of the signature features of high end bidet-style residential bath spaces.

Faucets- They might look minimal, but the question “which faucet installation type do I need?” have definitely given us sleepless night. As the market space is flooded with a plethora of options, it is quite easy to get swayed by looks over quality. Yet, compromising the quality poses serious health problems. Rather choose faucets from brands that are high on elegance and crafted from the best quality raw materials. After all, high quality never goes out of style!

The brands are endless that provide high end designer products, yet Fima does deserve a special mention owing to its breath taking designs and high quality.

Tiles- Each bath space has a unique personality and choosing the correct tiles is an important step towards doing so. Glass, marble, ceramic, glazed or unglazed, there is something for everyone's desires. The aesthetic appeal of each of these is mesmerizing. Go ahead and pick the one that appeal to your senses. Trust your instincts and shower in seraphic glory.

Lend your bath space a vivid international fair with high quality designer tiles from acclaimed brands such as Appiani and WOW and be amazed at the glamour of luxury they import.

Complete collections- Assembling a perfectly coordinated bath space by handpicking and choosing each product is not only time consuming but sometimes futile. This is not because of the lack of products but of expertise. Hence, the experts have taken it upon themselves to provide complete collection of exclusive designer bath spaces. Just choose a theme that appeals to your senses and be surprised to find every element of the bathroom perfectly justifying and complimenting each other! Ranging from the modern to the traditional or from the minimalistic to the explicitly glamorous, choose any theme and a collection is there for you.

If you want to make your bath space to make an ever lasting impression on your visitors then opt for the ones that are available in exquisite and precious metals. The dream of owning a ravishingly gorgeous bath space covered in gold isn't a dream anymore. Especially with brands like Globo and Falper that has found the ultimate solution to owing a perfectly designer master bath.

Valves- While designing a luxury bath, we tend to pay least attention to the valves that control our shower functions etc.. As a result of this, they often tend to look like a hideous spot in an otherwise flawless milieu. Essential but unappealing. Also, compromising on the quality poses serious problem in the long run.

High end brands provide valves that are lead and zinc free while retaining the looks of an embellishment rather than an ugly spot. Thermostatic valves are practical, user friendly and the perfect steps to create a lavishly multifunctional shower. IB Rubinetterie is definitely the first name that comes to mind when the question of style coupled with quality is in consideration.

Mirrors- Choosing unconventional shapes and ornamental designs for bath space mirrors are passé. They have surpassed their functionality from just being a mere statement piece. The modern age LED illuminated mirrors comes with advanced features such as music control via blue tooth with vibration speakers and infrared on /off sensors with dimmer function. You even switch between cool led light settings to the warm one.

Reflect style and glamour in your bath and vanity with smart and elegant mirrors from esteemed brands such as Vanita & Casa.
